PHONOGRAPHY WRITING

BOOK KEEPING TATORT BY J. W. DOLBEAR,

Author of the "Science of Penmanship,"

Persons from 6 to 60 years can learn this system In a few lessons ladies are taught to write in a eat, easy and rapid manner, and gentlemen in a bold, rapid, business style.

To persons acquainted with its merits, his system of writing needs no otter recummendation, but these anacquainted with it, Mr. D. refers to the following remarks and testimonials. Instead of teaching Penmanship merely as an emitation Art, an experieuce 2: years has enabled him to reduce it to the certain of a science, so that being golded by smootings, in-atend of random practice, pupils from 6 to 60 years can in a short time learn to write with EASE, ELEGANCE and Raphetty.

So accurate is his system, and so uniform to its success, that after witnessing its effects on several bendred pupils in Nashville, the Ismented Alfred Hums observed,
"Having had a fair opported thy of examining your system of Penmanship, and having seen the wonderful and rapid improvement of your pupils in my school, I consider it but just to say, that I believe it to be not only the best system, but the on'y one deserving the name - for by strict attention to the rules given, any person may, in a short time, acquire a free, rapid, and elegant hand. I should be pleased to see it universally adopted."

This expression was concurred in by—

COLUMNIA, TENN., Nov. 20, 1843.
Ms. J. W. Dollman—Done Sir : I have been much interested and pleased in examining your system of penmanship. Your method of teaching seems to me to be both skifful and faithful, and the improvement of your pupils as surprising and rapid beyond any-thing I have ever witnessed. I shall feel happy if this testimony to your merit shall lead others to ava beautiful and useful arts; and am very respectfully JAS. H. OTEY.

Pross the Hon. Judge N. Green,
President of the Law School, at Lebanon, Tenn., and who was for 20 years on the Supreme Seatch of Ten-"Mr. Dolbear has spent many years in teaching eMr. Dolbear has spent many years in teaching and perfecting his system of instruction, and is by far superior to any teacher of penmanship I have ever seen. You will perceive at once that he is a man of fine intelligence. He gives to instruction without a reason: and his reasoning is so just and clear that you at once perceive the principle he seeks to impart—and that being fixed in the min!, the pupil, acting upon it, soon fearns to write with case and rapidity, as well as with elegance.

I commend Mr. boltear to your kind attention, and trust it will be consistent with your views and feeltrust it will be consistent with your views and feelings to forward his objects. Any service you may retuler him will be worthly bestowed and will oblige me Very respectfully, your iriend.

LEBANON, TEXM., Oct. 20, 1856. N. GREEN.

The following very just remarks of the Hon. Thos. H. Bentou, U. S. Senator, are worthy the attentive regard of parents and all young persons who have any stope of success in the business of life.

A centleman or a lady either who writes badly nover writes willingly; and consequently often fail to write when they should; and when they do write, it is goe at the last moment, with haste and impatience and consequently with faults of all klods, of en com-mitting and injuring both the writer and the cause which he advocates. Washing you every success in your laudable andortakings, I remain yours, I respectfully, THOS. H. BENTON,

Allow me to introduce to you my friend J. W. Dol-bear, who weits your city for the purpose of teach-ing Penmanship and Phonography. His reputation as a successful teacher is re well and so widely estabthed that I will say nothing on that score. I only de ire to present him as a gentleman from whose so-ciety I have derived much pleasure and profit, and as one whom you have the intelligence to appreciate, anything you may do to further his designs will be gratefully acknowledged by your friend, None but those who are acquainted with it ca orm any itea of ite great brevity and simplicity, or of the ease with which it can be learned. But what is Phonography? It is a system of short hand writing, which can be written ten times as fast as the common writing, read as easily, and learned with far less it is used not only by Reporters, but by bundreds of thousands in this country and in England, for private writing, for composition, for taking testimony, etc;; m courts, for sermons, for correspondence, for book-keeping, etc., etc.; by Ladies, by Students, by Clerks, by Clerkymon, by Lawyers, etc., and is rapidly coming into general use.

As a labor saving invention, its value can scarcely be estimated, and it requires but little time to lear to use it for the dail's purposes of life. But the obtre indulgance of the passions, a neglect of which will undermine the constitution, rendering the sub-test unit for bushiest or society, and enusing proma-ture old age.

Females who may be inboring with any difficulty of jection is made that others cannot read it! Well then let them spend a few hours to learn it, for where is the justice in requiring the active and intelligent to spend ten'days in doing what they might do in one, merely to save the indoient a few hours effort in earning a thing which would be useful to them for life? The time was when but few persons could write their names, but the progress of the age de mands a more rapid method of writing, and while the active and intelligent most and with have the advantages of Phonography, the indolent must sub-mit to the disadvantage caused by their own indo-The ease with which it can be brought into profit able and daily use is shown by the following certificates. DOLBEAR: Siz: The few lessons I took from you some time since in Phonography, have enabled me to save more than two-thirds of the labor in preparing my sermons, and I have no doubt it will soon enable me to save three fourths of it. I have never spent time more profitably than in its attanment, and I leel perfectly free in recommending it to Clergymen generally, as a means by which a vast amount of time may be saved and that too with far less effort than is generally supposed. Its principles are few and simple, of easy attainment and suited to the full expression of every word in the language, either for present use or per n anent record. Yours respectfully,

J. S. HAYS,

Pastor of the 2s Presbyterian Church, Nashville, Tenn. Nashville, August 1, 1863.

In about six months from the time I began the study of Phonography, with less than one-third of mid time devoted to its attainment, I was employed as Reporter for the United States Board of Claims.

The faithful teaching of Mr. J. W. Dolbear, of Nashville, and the sindy and practice of the concise, companies the property and indictionally arranged phonography.

preliensive, and judiciously arranged phonographic cooks of Sen Pitman, of Checkman, have thus easily mabled me to make Phonography practically useful. Its principles are quickly mastered, and I know e nothing that young persons can learn with equal pros-pect of immediate and profitable employment.

The Scorrtary of War has ordered, July 6th, 1863, in "General Order No. 208, possegraphic r-porters employed under the authority of the 29th rection of the act of Congress, approved March 2, 1863, will be allowed not exceeding ten dollars per day," etc. This will of course greatly increase the demand for Re-Namuville, August 4, 1863.

In January last Mr. J. W. Dolberr gave, free oy charge, a course of iessons in Phonography and Writing to myself and many other wounded soldiers in Hospital No. 20. Tedious hours were thus changed to pleasant and profitable ones. We value highly our knowledge of Phonography, and those who have Receipts for Q. M. Stores delivered, &c. last the Hospital correspond in it with those who have not. W. E. Dervin, of Company F, 16th w. S. A., who returned home disabled for life from his wounds, writes that he is teaching Phonography, and finds it so profitable that he would not take $6,000 for what he learned from Mr. D. I think both soldiers and office a would find the learning of it a profitable employment for their leisure time in camp or hospi imployment to the duties.

W. G. SHAFER,

Clerk Hospital No 20 If Phonography were taught to every soldier in the army, Mr. D. believes most of them would value it as highly as the pay they receive from the thovernment without in the least interfering with their do ties as soldiers.

Hoe, Thomas H. Beston said in Congress:
"Hat this art been known forty years ago, it would have saved me twenty years of hard labor." have saved me twenty years of hard labor."

If Phonography in thus valuable in saving so large an amount of a lifetime, should not every child have its vast advantages, especially when they can be had at so small an expense of time and money? If it would have saved twenty years of hard labor to the life of one man, should years of hard labor be brought pon others for the want of a blessing of such easy itainment? [oc6tf]
